Vx Aviation Now Includes Free Shipping on Mx Products

Best Selling Audio Mixer, Music Adapter, Music/Cell Phone Adapter and Tone Annunciator all ship for free.

VANCOUVER, BC---November 10, 2008---Vx Aviation announced an immediate reduction in effective sales price by including free airmail shipping to the USA, Canada and the UK on its best-selling Mx™ Product Family devices. This saves between 9% and 23% of the total cost, depending on the product.

The Mx family consists of several innovated audio products for non-certified aircraft systems, including:

The AMX-2A 10-Channel Audio Mixer Amplifier (Miniature Audio Panel);
The ASX-2A Stereo Headphone Music Amplifier;
The ASX-2B Stereo Music and Cellphone Adapter; and
The AL-1A Tone Annunciator.

All devices in the MX family are extremely compact. Taking advantage of advanced microelectronics, the devices are packaged in D-subminiature connector shells and typically weigh only one ounce (30 grams). This keeps space and weight to a minimum and greatly simplifies installation.

All of the devices provide the exclusive GroundTrak™ bonding system for the easy connection of shielded wiring and the resulting reduction in electrical noise interference. By eliminating the requirement for externally daisy-chaining electrical shields, GroundTrak increases the quality and reliability of the connections and allows for easy future upgrades and changes.
